

In Search of The Lady of The Lac

Or

Andy's Lost in France!

An epic West Derby Ski Club trip to Tignes Le Lac passed without incident until our semi-playing Captain, Andrew Price, realised he should not have gone to Specsavers, when his Lac Nav failed to help him in his quest for the Lady of The Lake. Unable to see the buses parked in Val Claret, he stumbled across the lake, crying out, "Shoulda got them specs from Merton Beck's. Colin, where are you!" Fortunately, our two ladies of Le Lac, Millie and Lorna, had left enough cake for his afternoon tea to allow him to recover enough to get half a day's skiing on the following day.

Duck was successfully negotiated without any casualties (it is possible, Peter). Photo gallery on WDSC Tignes 2012 page.
